

Log behavior of partition function

王星炜
南开大学

In this talk, we will investigate the log-behavior of partition functions. In details, we will give the upper and lower bound for finite differences of the logarithm of partition functions the logarithms of overpartition functions. Then we will prove the partition functions possess the higher order Turán inequalities and the double Turán inequalities.