

Maximum spherical s -distance sets

俞韋巨

National Central University

A set of points on sphere with each pair of points has s distinct values is called a spherical s -distance sets. We address the problem to determine maximum size of spherical s -distance set in n dimension Euclidean space. In this talk, I will go through the historic result and talk about our recent progress on this problem.